Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 11 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Early cloud clearing to very warm sunshine Friday.

Today:
A dull and cloudy, but dry start to the morning for many parts. Cloud slowly lifting and breaking through the morning with some very warm sunny periods by early afternoon. Turning cloudier from the northwest by evening, though remaining dry. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry overnight though rather cloudy through the evening. Clear spells developing later, with some patches of mist and low cloud forming by dawn. Rather humid, especially in towns and cities. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Saturday:
Early mist and low cloud soon clearing through the morning to leave a dry day with long sunny periods. Warm or very warm inland, though slightly fresher near the coast. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Another sunny and very warm, perhaps hot day Sunday. Similar on Monday. Perhaps a little fresher on Tuesday, but still widely very warm with plenty of sunshine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.